Program Overview

The County of Lennox & Addington, as the Consolidated Municipal Services Manager for the Counties of Prince Edward and Lennox & Addington, provides Social Assistance, Children's Services and Housing Services through its Prince Edward-Lennox & Addington Social Services (PELASS) Department. Through its Housing Services division, PELASS is responsible for planning and managing a broad range of housing services across the two counties.

On March 7, 2022, the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing (MMAH) announced a new provincially funded program that supports Service Managers in providing affordable housing and support services for people at risk of, or experiencing homelessness. The Homelessness Prevention Program (HPP) is intended to prevent, address and reduce homelessness within communities. The HPP began on April 1, 2022 and allocations are based on a fiscal calendar, ending March 31, 2023. The service categories funded through HPP are Supportive Housing, Community Outreach and Support Services, Housing Assistance and Emergency Shelter Solutions.

PELASS has already either spent or allocated the majority of HPP funds but has some unspent funds remaining. PELASS is accepting Expressions of Interest (EOI) for funding towards projects and initiatives in the counties of Prince Edward and Lennox & Addington that meet the objectives of the HPP.

All HPP funding must be allocated by PELASS by March 31, 2023

Homelessness Prevention Program (HPP) Eligibility Guidelines

Supportive Housing

Supportive housing combines long-term housing assistance (e.g., rent supplements, housing allowances) with individualized, flexible, and ongoing support services (e.g., counselling, life skills training, activities of daily living, behaviour supports) to enable people to live as independently as possible in their community.

Supportive housing may be place-based (situated in one building or location) or in scattered sites where supports are delivered through home visits, in the community or via phone/virtually. As well, supportive housing may include congregate living arrangements or may be available through a self-contained unit. For further clarity, this could exist within the context of social housing and other forms of government-assisted housing (e.g., rent supplements, housing allowances).

For the purposes of HPP, supportive housing also includes:

- Transitional housing, which is typically considered as an intermediate step between emergency shelter and permanent housing and has limits on how long an individual or family can stay (generally up to four years). It is intended to offer a supportive living environment for its residents, including offering them structure, supervision, support (for addictions and mental health, for instance), and life skills to become more independent.
- Residential Services Homes, i.e., housing in which the Residential Services Homes Standards Framework applies (see Appendix B). Residential Services Homes include long-term housing facilities that were previously funded under the former Domiciliary Hostel Program, or housing where the housing provider delivers both long-term housing and on-site daily supports and services to its tenants. Examples of on-site daily supports and services may include providing tenants with meals, laundry and cleaning services, and assistance with personal care and medication.
